Gary L. Whited President

Gary Whited was named president of General Dynamics Land Systems and vice president of General Dynamics Corporation on March 7, 2013, succeeding Mark Roualet. Mr. Whited had been senior vice president and general manager for General Dynamics Land Systems' domestic operations since 2011, where he was responsible for strategy, operational performance, customer engagement, execution and growth of the company's domestic business. In that role, he oversaw the company's Ground Combat Systems, Combat Support and Sustainment and U.S. Marine Corps/Navy sectors.

Prior to that appointment, he was General Dynamics Land Systems' vice president of finance and chief financial officer where he had responsibility for all aspects of financial reporting and financial management as well as the company's Information Systems and Technology operations.

Mr. Whited joined General Dynamics Land Systems after serving as the vice president of finance and chief financial officer for General Dynamics Ordnance and Tactical Systems, a leading manufacturer of munitions and missile components for the U.S. Department of Defense and its allies. Mr. Whited also served as the controller for General Dynamics Advanced Information Systems. Earlier in his career, Mr. Whited worked for the Defense Contract Audit Agency and PriceWaterhouse LLC.

Mr. Whited brings more than 30 years of experience in the global Aerospace and Defense industry and earned a bachelor's of science in accounting from Wayne State University in Detroit. He is a Certified Public Accountant and a member of the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants and the Financial Executives Institute.
